

Ms. Deirdre Lane,
Clerk of Seanad Eireann,
Seanad Eireann,
Leinster House,
Kildare Street,
Dublin 2.

The House,
Cappagh,
Askeaton,
Co Limerick.

Dear Ms. Lane,

Would you
Please put the following Matter Right.

Both Houses of the Oireachtas are not properly Constituted.

Please Remove the Sovereign Seal of Dail Eireann (A.D.) from the backs of the chairs in Seanad Eireann and place the Harp (B.C.), with 12 strings in an elevated position over the seat of the Cathaoirleach of Seanad Eireann and Return the Sovereign Seal of Dail Eireann 12 strings Anno Domini, a Christian symbol and Ethos back to Dail Eireann and place the Sovereign Seal of Dail Eireann, (A.D. 12 strings) in an elevated position over the seat of the Ceann Comhairle with the Tricolour. Then Both Houses of the Oireachtas are properly Constituted and not as is at present.

I have enclosed nine pages for you on the difference between the Sovereign Seal of Dáil Éireann and the Harp and where and how they came into being.

The consequence of Both Houses of the Oireachtas not being properly constituted

It is Treason for Seánad Éireann to have the Sovereign Seal of Dáil Éireann (A.D.) on the backs of their Chairs

All Legislation made by Both Houses of the Oireachtas is Null and Void.

Signed and sealed on this day
The First of November Anno Domini Two Thousand and Four, Under the Sovereign Seal of the Sovereign Republic of Eire

William James Mc Guire
